EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

Yesterday we had the pleasure of receiving a visit from James E. Parton, Esq., the gifted author, and a statistical contributor to American literature of no ordinary ability. He is here to write an article upon Pittsburgh and its manufactures, which will shortly appear in the Atlantic Monthly. Mr. Parton regards Quebec, New Orleans and Pittsburgh as three very odd cities which are different from each other and from all the cities of the Continent. We trust he will receive the necessary information desired from the citizens, as it is a matter of considerable importance that Pittsburgh be properly represented in the widely disseminated Atlantic Monthly.

Jefferson City, Mo., advices picture a terrible state of affairs in that neighborhood. The rebels have taken full possession of the place and commit frequent outrages upon the Union men residing thereabouts. It is said that the rebel citizens have assumed to invite into Jefferson City all the notorious bush-whackers and desperadoes around, who still defy the power of the military authorities. They go through the streets with revolvers and bowie-knives in their belts and commit all sorts of depredations in the face of the civil authorities. Gov. Fletcher has been made aware of the lawlessness prevailing, and has despatched a military company to arrest the desperadoes.

Two cadets at West Point previous to the rebellion, received checks on the United States Treasury, which, in their haste to join the rebel ranks, they failed to present. On Monday they presented them at the Treasury, but Secretary Stanton ordered that payment be refused, and the amount returned to the appropriation from which drawn. Served them right.

A desperado named Diggs has just been captured at Paris, Tennessee. He was in the Confederate army but afterwards adopted the life of a robber and guerrilla. He has, during his short career, committed a number of horrible murders and outrages.

The Beaver Argus suggests that in case the contest between Curtin and Cameron for the Senatorship shall become so sharp as to make it necessary to set both aside, that Judge Agnew, one of the Judges of the Supreme Court, would become an available man.

Congress, fortunately for the country, is not disposed to aid the President in his schemes against Mexico, or to concur with him in picking a quarrel with France because its troops are not called home as rapidly as was expected.

John I. Miller, a very young man, was arrested on Tuesday and held in $10,000 bail, at Philadelphia, on three charges of arson and a charge of forgery.

Senator Dixon, of Connecticut, has returned to his allegiance to the Republican party, and announces that he shall oppose both the President and his Policy.

A deed of trust issued for the Indianapolis, Jeffersonville and Madison Railroad Company required three thousand dollars in revenue stamps.

An Illinois regiment of colored soldiers has contributed $1200 to the Lincoln Monument Association.

Peoria, Illinois, now boasts of a large bell foundry, and claims to be in the "ring" of importance.

The Senate has quietly let Mr. Cowan down from places of influence on Standing Committees.

Stephen H. Branch is now publishing in New York a paper called the "Grave Digger."

James Klu, of Cincinnati, fell down stairs at his boarding house and broke his neck.

Galveston is to have an Opera House worth $100,000.

THE OCCUPATION OF MATAMORAS.

Complaints of Gen. Sedgwick's Action

Cincinnati, December 5.—The Commercial's Brownsville, Texas, special of November 30th says: General Sedgwick, on the 24th ult, made a formal demand on Colonel Canales for the immediate surrender of Matamoras, which was acceded to. Canales occupied the fortifications, while the American flag floats over the city. A sufficient number of troops occupy the city to render the occupation secure. Escabado attacked Canales on the 27th, when a desperate battle ensued, lasting three hours, resulting in the defeat of Escabado, with a loss of six hundred men, including General Espinose. Canales loss is seventy-five. Escabado lays his defeat to the interference of the United States troops.

Another dispatch says that Escabado attacked Canales in Matamoras, on Tuesday morning at half past five o'clock, but fell back after a two hours' desperate struggle. One occasion of his defeat was the occupation of Matamoras three days before, by a body of American troops, who relieved Canales of the care of the city, and left him to use his full force in defending the fortifications. Escabado indignantly complains of the action of General Sedgwick. He expects reinforcements, when he will renew the attack. Meanwhile the American flag floats within the besieged defences.

A Dangerous Counterfeit.

New York, December 5.—A dangerous counterfeit of United States six per cent. coupon bonds of 1881, was discovered to-day by the Assistant Treasurer, Van Dick, to whom they were submitted by brokers who had arranged to buy them.

The operators in these spurious coupons rented a room at 49 Exchange Place, and employed a boy to take a package to H. A. Heisers & Sons, bankers at No. 38 Wall street, with instructions to sell for gold. The bankers scrutinized the coupons and made out the bill, which amounted to $1,280, but before completing the purchase sent them to the Sub-Treasury. There they were first pronounced genuine, but a closer examination proved them to be worthless.

The counterfeiters escaped.

Startling Frauds Upon the Government

IMPEACHMENT RUMORS, &c.

Washington, December 5.—A very distinguished party assembled last evening at the residence of Col. John W. Forney, to meet Hon. John Walter, proprietor of the London Times, the guest of Col. Forney. Among those present were Speaker Colfax, Chief Justice Carter and Judge Fisher, of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, Major General Howard, the venerable Peter Force, and representatives from the daily papers in the United States. At the close of a fine banquet, which succeeded a pleasant social interview, Col. Forney proposed the health of the distinguished guest in felicitous terms, to which Mr. Walter responded at some length, expressing his gratification at the hospitality with which he had been greeted here and elsewhere during his travels in this country; his satisfaction at the present and the glorious promise of future prosperity which he had witnessed wherever he had gone; his high appreciation of the character of the American people and their institutions, and his hopes for the continued union, harmony and greatness of the nation; he hoped his example in making the visit, which had proved to him so satisfactory and so highly profitable, and from which he had learned so much of our people and institutions, would be followed by many of those present, and Americans generally, in order that they might, as he had done, be divested of prejudice and misconceptions, which nothing could so well remove as actual observation. He remarked on the differing circumstances of our respective forms of government for their respective conditions, expressing his opinion that the great strain upon our institutions will not come for many years, not until we have a population of two or three hundred millions. In conclusion he expressed his warm thanks for the hospitality and kindness with which he had been everywhere received.

The style of speaking of Mr. Walters is that of the cultivated Englishman and practiced Parliamentarian, and made a most favorable impression. It is less florid than most of our public speakers—is plain, conversational and has, in fact, not a particle of buncombe about it. Not once did Mr. Walters allude to the British lion.

In response to calls brief and happy speeches were made by General Banks, Speaker Colfax, Hon. W. D. Kelly, General Hiram Walbridge, and Major General Howard. In the remarks of Mr. Colfax he made an eloquent tribute to the character of Queen Victoria as a wife, mother and sovereign, and spoke of the warm love felt for her by every loyal American, in consequence of her staying the hands of the ministry from heated action and preventing a collision between England and the United States.

The enthusiastic and protracted applause which followed Mr. Colfax's allusion to the Queen of England must have served agreeably to demonstrate to Mr. Walter the warmth of the appreciation in which his sovereign is held in this country. The company separated about midnight, after an unusually enjoyable entertainment.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The United States Senators elect from Nebraska, Thayer and Tipton, have arrived in this city, and Mr. Marquette, the Representative elect from the same State, is shortly expected. Mr. Thayer has brought with him the constitution of the new State, which will, in a short time, be laid before Congress. Congress will have to pass an act to admit these new Senators and Representatives to seats before they can take possession of them. This will probably be done at once.

The heads of the various departments in the Treasury office have written a letter to the Committee of Ways and Means, urging the passage of the bill introduced at the last session of Congress, to increase the salaries of the clerks.

Senators Cowan, Doolittle and Dixon have been placed at the tail of the committees They have hitherto served on. This is a slap at them for supporting the President.

SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR THE RELIEF OF SUFFERERS.

New York, December 5.—State Comptroller Hill has addressed a letter to Senator Morgan, intended as an appeal to Congress to appropriate part of the national revenue from taxation to provide for the payment of war debts, points out that had the States not voluntarily assumed burdens, arising from raising of troops, they would have fallen on the general government, and that the latter should not weaken the power of the former by undue taxation, and that the tax paying ability of the nation is seriously affected by having indebtedness on the part of States. The Comptroller proposes that Congress relinquish the income tax to States, and the amount collected within each State be appropriated the payment of its own war indebtedness.

A grand Masonic Fair, in aid of the fund for the proposed Masonic Hall and Asylum in this city, was formally opened to-night in the presence of an immense crowd of visitors. Addresses were delivered by Grand Master R. D. Holmes and many other Masonic dignitaries.

A car on the Hudson City Railroad, while descending Bergen Hill last evening, the brakes becoming detached, was precipitated down the decline at almost lightning speed. Two passengers attempted to jump, one of whom was thrown against a rock and so terribly cut that his life is despaired of. The other was dragged the whole distance down hill, his clothing getting fast in the end of the car, and also sustained serious injury.

It is stated that Mr. Meaney, recently arrested in Dublin for a suspected Fenian sympathizer, was authorized by General Dix to proceed to Paris, where he was to be employed as an attache of the United States Ministers in France. Under these circumstances, Gen. Dix, it is believed, will procure Mr. Meaney's immediate release.

The owners of the steamship Scotland have placed the wreck under the contract of underwriters, who will make efforts to save both the vessel and cargo. It is believed she can be saved, though in a seriously damaged condition. The cargo, which included 2,300 bales of cotton and 1,000 bush corn, was valued at $400,000. Twelve boxes of cheese have been saved, besides the silver and a large part of the furniture of the steamer. A large part of the cotton will be secured. The vessel is valued at over $400,000, and is nearly fully insured in Europe.

It is proposed to urge the passage of an act by Legislature extending the jurisdiction of the City of Brooklyn over the whole of King's county, making it the City and County of Brooklyn.

A curious controversy is now pending between the Atlantic Coast Wrecking Company, acting for the underwriters, and the New York Submarine and Diving Company, which will probably result in important litigation, involving the rights of the underwriters to take charge of property they have insured for the purpose of securing their own interests.

A Chicago Fenian in Trouble—Opposition to Granting Condemned Prisoners a New Trial.

Toronto, December 5.—James McDavitt, a man who hails from Chicago, was arraigned before the police magistrate to-day, charged with making use of treasonable language yesterday. From the evidence, it appeared he had said, that if the Fenians, under sentence of death were executed, Toronto would be set in flames. The prisoner pleaded intoxication as an excuse, but was remanded.

Mr. McKenzie is making strenuous efforts to upset the decision of the judges in respect to granting new trials to the Fenians, now under sentence of death. He has it now under consideration, to apply for a writ of error, on the grounds that the judges of the Queen's Bench and common pleas, annulled in refusing to grant the rule nisi to make an order for the carrying out of sentences already pronounced, and by this omission, sentences already had, are superseded, and there is no authority now to enforce them.

The application will be grounded on the thirteenth section of the act respecting new trials, appeals and writs of error. It reads as follows: "In case a new trial be refused the court shall make such order for carrying out the sentence already passed, or for passing sentence if none has been passed, or for the discharge of the prisoner so convicted on bail or otherwise as justice requires. In order to obtain leave the consent of the Attorney General must be had. Only eight days now remain to do so.

Lecture This Evening.

An opportunity, which will be keenly appreciated, will be afforded this evening—the opportunity of listening to the lecture of Dr. R. Shelton McKenzie, at the Academy of Music, under the auspices of the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association. The subject chosen is "Travels Abroad and Persons Whom I Met," and we need not say that the subject, fascinating in itself, will receive an added grace and beauty from the manner in which it will be treated by the distinguished lecturer. A thronged house will welcome the speaker. Reserved seats can be secured at the Academy this morning, commencing at ten o'clock.

The Councils and the Coming Guests.

Yesterday afternoon an official communication was received by the Presidents of Councils in this city, from Mr. Wilson, Clerk of the Columbus Councils announcing that the members of that Council, with the accompanying citizens, would leave Cleveland for this city to-day, and would telegraph the hour of their expected departure and arrival In view of the coming visit the members of Councils held an informal meeting last evening in the Mayor's private office, for the purpose of making arrangements for the reception. A committee of arrangements and reception, consisting of Hon. William C. M'Carthy, George W. Coffin, Isaac Coursin and Dr. Gallaher, of the Select, and John G. Torley, William R. Ford, John H. Hare, William N. Ogden and W. A. Tomlinson, of the Common branch, was appointed. The committee will meet for further arrangements this morning at nine o'clock, at the Mayor's Office. A committee on carriages, consisting of Hon. William C. M'Carthy and Thomas Steele, Esq., was also appointed. It was decided that there should be a reception meeting of the Councils at the Mayor's Office this evening at half past seven o'clock, on which occasion the guests will be formally received. The meeting then adjourned. The Columbus visitors will probably arrive this afternoon at 3:40.

Narrow Escape from a Destructive Fire Criminal Negligence.

A man named Levardi, who keeps a fruit stand on Wood street, and keeps his stock and furniture in a portion of the cellar under Mertz's Bank, last evening set the little sheet iron stove, in which he roasts chestnuts, into the cellar with coals of fire still in the open fire box. The result of the carelessness became apparent during the evening. At about eleven o'clock, some gentlemen passing discovered dense smoke issuing from the cellar, and bursting open the door, went in. They discovered that a piece of blanket, or carpet which had been thrown near the stove, had taken fire from it, and was burning slowly. A quantity of loose paper, which was just taking fire, was scattered over the floor in various directions, and a large number of boxes and barrels were standing all about in convenient proximity to the stove. The fire was speedily extinguished before any serious damage had been done. The criminal carelessness that came so near causing a disastrous conflagration needs, needs no comment.

The Counterfeit Shovers.

J. B. Bruner and G. H. Williams, the two men arrested by officer Seth Wilmot on a charge of passing counterfeit money, had a hearing yesterday afternoon at four o'clock before Alderman Strain. At the hearing they both expressed the earnest wish that their final hearing might be further postponed. Their request was granted, and the next hearing was fixed for next Wednesday, to take place before United States Commissioner McCandless. Bruner was held to bail in the sum of $5,000. Williams being unable to procure bail was committed to await his hearing.

We are informed that we did wrong in wholly omitting from our report of yesterday all mention of the officers of the Government Secret Service in this district. It is stated that in the earlier stage of the cases they lent efficient aid.

Unlucky.—Mr. R. E. Sellers, Jr., came to the Mayor's office and complained that he had had a valuable overcoat stolen on Tuesday evening by some person unknown. Mr. Sellers was spending the evening with a party of ladies and gentlemen at the house of Rev. Mr. Snyder, on Hancock street, and the coat hung with several others in the hall. The thief entered the hall and selected this overcoat and made off with it. Mr. Sellers is unlucky, inasmuch as this is the third coat he had stolen during the present season. He also had one stolen last winter. The thief of the last coat has not yet been arrested.

Church, on the corner of Webster and Washington streets, by the Rev. J. C. Dickey, of the Westminister College. The subject—"Aim and Success"—is one that has won an enviable reputation for the able lecturer, and the purpose of the lecture appeals to all Christian people, as the lecture is for the benefit of the Sabbath School.

Horrible Murder in Washington, Pa.—Capture of the Supposed Murderers.

Yesterday morning Chief Hague received from the District Attorney of Washington county, a dispatch informing him that a terrible murder had been perpetrated, on Tuesday night, in Hopewell township, Washington county, about six miles from the town, and requesting the Chief to come on and work the case up. Chief Hague's home duties, however, prevented him from going.

The facts of the murder so announced, so far as we have learned them, are as follows: At about ten o'clock on Tuesday night, as Mr. Robert W. Dinsmore, a wealthy farmer, residing on Middletown road, in Hopewell township, about six miles from Washington, was retiring to bed, he was called to the door by a knocking, and on opening the door two persons, disguised as black men, told him that the boys were wanted to go to Miller's, a neighbor's, as there was sickness there. Dinsmore informed the men that he had no boys, when they stated it was him they wanted, and pushed into the house. A scuffle ensued, during which Dinsmore wrested a revolver from one of them, which the villain soon recovered. Dinsmore then rapidly passed through the kitchen and bedroom to the hall, for the apparent purpose of getting a cane or club, and was followed by the men. As they passed through the bedroom they stopped and made signs of attacking Mrs. Dinsmore. She begged them not to shoot her, and her voice reaching Mr. Dinsmore, he turned in the hall and was again confronted by the murderers, who shot at him twice, both balls entering his left breast and producing wounds from which he died between two and three hours afterwards. After he had fallen, one of them struck him with a chair. They also cut their victim with a knife, inflicting several severe wounds.

The deceased was a man of about fifty-five years of age, and was universally respected throughout the neighborhood. He leaves a family, consisting of a wife, two daughters and a son. He was quite wealthy, and was known to have recently realized a large sum of money from the sale of wool. This money was undoubtedly the object of the foul murder, though the perpetrators were frightened away before they had secured their booty.

The most intense excitement concerning the murder prevailed during the day throughout that entire region. The authorities, with praiseworthy promptness, offered a reward of one thousand dollars for the apprehension of the murderers. During the afternoon two men, named Robert Taylor and "Bobbie" Poland, were arrested on suspicion of having committed the deed. Both are young men. Poland is about twenty-two years of age. He served in the army, and we are informed that his record was not at all good. It is stated that he obtained his discharge by feigning insanity, and that, since his return to civil life, his conduct at times has indicated mental unsoundness or moral viciousness. Later in the day a man named Fogler was arrested on suspicion. It is alleged that he has made a partial confession, implicating a man named Montgomery with himself. Montgomery has so far escaped capture.

Our New Sheriff—S. B. Cluley Assumes the Duties of His Office,

Yesterday morning the Sheriff elect, Samuel B. Cluley, entered upon the duties of the position to which he has been chosen. On the opening of the Court Ex-Sheriff Stewart conducted Mr. Cluley before Judge Hampton, and announced that he had the commission of Samuel B. Cluley, who had been elected Sheriff of Allegheny county. At the request of His Honor, Sheriff Stewart read the commission, after which the oath of office was duly administered. Judge Hampton then made some remarks congratulating the new incumbent, and on the retiring officer, with evident feeling, invoked God's blessing in his future undertakings. From the District Court retiring Sheriff Stewart accompanied Mr. Cluley to the Court of Quarter Sessions, Judge Stowe on the bench, where he announced that he held in his hand the commission and oath of office of Sheriff S. B. Cluley. By the direction of the Court the retiring officer read the commission, after which Judge Stowe said to Mr. Cluley: "I congratulate you, sir, on being elected Sheriff of Allegheny county. If you perform your duties as faithfully as the gentleman who has just read your commission, has done, you will meet with the full and entire satisfaction of the Court." From the District Court the gentleman proceeded to the Court of Common Pleas, over which Judge Sterritt was presiding, and Sheriff Stewart introduced Mr. Cluley. The commission was read by Deputy Prothonotary Kennedy, and the new incumbent congratulated. In all of the courts Mr. Cluley received the hearty congratulation and well wishes of the members of the bar, and enters upon his responsible duties under the most favorable prospects.

No one who knows Sheriff Cluley—and who does not?—needs be assured that in assuming the duties of his office the new Sheriff fully meets the requirements of the position and will execute all his duties in the most satisfactory manner. No one of his late constituents will have any cause to regret their action in elevating him to the position he now occupies, but all who have business with him will find him prompt and cautious on every occasion.

After his induction into office Mr. Cluley appointed the following deputies: John H. Stewart, Thomas H. Hunter, William Z. Stubbs, Thomas B. Cluley, Richard Fiffe. The appointees have been connected with the Sheriff's office for some time past, and are thoroughly conversant with the duties which will devolve upon them.

The retiring Sheriff takes with him to his new position the warmest wishes and the kindest recollections of the large number who were thrown in contact with him during his term of office just finished.

Narrow Escape of a School House full of Children from Destruction

A stove in the south-west room on the third floor of the Third Ward School House, Allegheny, was accidentally overturned at about three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, and set the floor on fire. For a time it was feared that the entire building would be destroyed, but through the exertions of Prof. Lucky, Superintendent, assisted by several female teachers, and some of the larger pupils, the flames were extinguished before much damage was done, although a large hole was burned through the floor.

At the time the fire broke out there were nearly nine hundred children in the building, and the wildest consternation prevailed. The alarm spread through the building in an instant, and a general rush was made for the stairways. In some of the rooms the teachers succeeded in locking the doors, and thus prevented the pupils from reaching the stairways. In others, however, this could not be done, and the children on the lower floor, where the primary schools are located, were crowded and jostled by those escaping from the upper floors. The stairways were completely blocked up, and for a time the most fearful consequences were anticipated. A number of workmen, engaged in paving Shanapin street, rushed into the building, and succeeded in rescuing the smaller children, and in clearing the stairways. In some of the rooms in which the doors had been secured, a rush was made for the windows, but fortunately the panic-stricken children were prevented from jumping out, and were thus saved from instant death. During the first rush, several of the children were injured, but none dangerously. One little girl had her face lacerated severely, another had her shoulder dislocated, and a third, named Wilkinson, had the bones of one hand severely crushed, by being trampled upon. Painful as these accidents were, however, we can consider them only as good fortune, when we reflect on the fearful peril to which the great crowd of children were subjected, and which they escaped.

The Library Season—The Public Catholic Library Association in the Field

In another column we announce the first annual lecture course of the Public Catholic Library Association. This praiseworthy institution was established in our city, some thirteen months since, and has been liberally encouraged and sustained by the Catholic and Protestant communities. There are now nearly eight hundred active members of the Association, and the financial condition of the Institution is particularly gratifying. The Library contains some twenty-five hundred volumes of the literary works of the most distinguished and popular authors of the old and new worlds. The Library Committee is desirous of increasing the catalogue, and making liberal additions to the stock of general reading matter, and hence, the entire net proceeds of the lectures announced, will be devoted to this purpose. The gentlemen selected by the Committee, are ranked among America's most gifted scholars, authors and orators, and the course compares favorably with any ever offered in this city. The engagements are all positive, with the exception, perhaps, of that with Horace Greely, but the Committee rely confidently that the great journalist will finally consent to visit Pittsburgh, in his present tour through the West. We trust the Association may be awarded by an intelligent community, all the success due their endeavors to cater to the intellectual wants of the masses.

A Scan. Mag. Case.—We hear upon the streets a rumor that a scan. mag. case in which a professional gentleman and a highly respected lady scholar of some sixteen summers, figure as the prominent characters. As the wife of the erring gentleman is about to bring a suit for divorce on the ground of adultery, we presume the full facts of the case will be made public at no distant date. The parties have been moving in the best circles of society, and the rumor created considerable sensation.

Sad Bereavement.—Mr. Edwin Logan and and wife, of New Garden township, Chester county, have within the space of fifteen days, followed the remains of three children to their graves, all having been raised to an age of usefulness. The disease was Diptheria; two others remain in a critical condition, but hopes are entertained of their recovery.

Broke Windows.—Alderman Nicholson yesterday committed to jail, to await his trial, a man named William Glennin, charged, on oath of Joseph Abel, with malicious mischief in breaking windows.

Inquest Concluded.

The Coroner's jury in the case of Samuel Williams, whose death and suspected poisoning we have already detailed at some length, assembled last evening at the Mayor's office to conclude their investigations. The testimony was resumed as follows:

Julius Blackson, (colored) sworn—Am a barber; live at No. 19 Overhill street; at the time of the occurrence I lived in the house with Mrs. Washington, the accused, on Webster street; during last month a couple of men, Williams and another man, came up the river and came to Mrs. Washington's; they were perfect strangers to all in the house. Williams took board at Mr. Donaldson's, just opposite; while at Mrs. Washington's, Williams got engaged in a game of cards with another boatman; the next day they came back and played again, and so on for several days. Was in the room every time they played, but did not play; did not see any liquor on any evening at all; don't think any was brought into the house; never saw Mrs. Washington in the room while they were playing cards at any time; never saw her speak to the deceased familiarly; she had no previous acquaintance with him; never saw her give him any thing at all to drink. I heard of his sickness on Monday evening, and went to see him the Thursday following; heard Mrs. Donaldson ask him where he got the liquor; I asked her what she meant, and she said the man was poisoned. He said Annie gave him the liquor; I suppose he meant Mrs. Washington; never knew of any ill-feeling between the deceased and Mrs. Washington; heard him say he had fifteen dollars; don't know of his losing any money at cards; he always won.

Noad Smith, (col'd.,) sworn—Live at 166 Fulton street. Was at Mrs. Washington's on Sunday while the party were playing cards. The deceased was playing. Never saw him afterwards till he was dead. Saw no whisky.

Obadiah Maloney, (col'd.,) sworn—Live at 301 Webster street, in the same house with Ann Eliza Washington. Never met deceased at the house. The first I saw of him was two weeks ago last Sunday. He was lying at Mrs. Donaldson's house sick. Had no conversation with him then. Did not see him again until Wednesday or Thursday. He was in bed then. Found his legs and feet swelled very much. Asked him what was the matter, and he said he had taken a great deal of cold, and had exposed himself very much. He said nothing else ailed him but a bad cough. The next morning I found him sitting by the fire. Saw him again on Friday before he died. Had heard about the poisoning talk. Saw that he was dying, and urged him to tell the whole truth. I asked him over again five or six times. He only said, "God have mercy on my soul." Did not hear him say one word about Mrs. Washington having poisoned him. Did not hear him say one word about any person giving him poison. Mrs. Donaldson was not in the room. That is the last time I saw him.

This closed the testimony, and the jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to his death from natural causes.

As will be seen from the testimony last evening a most emphatic contradiction was given to the statements of some of the witnesses previously examined. A little wholesome hunting out of perjury among some of the strongly swearing witnesses might not be amiss.

Remarkable Coincidence.

Yesterday morning our neighbors of the Dispatch made some very sensible suggestions to the Fire Alarm Committee and Chief Engineer Hare, as follows:

"There is a very great necessity for the adoption of a system by which, at the first alarm, but a certain number of engines, say two, nearest the point of alarm, may be called out first. If it should be found necessary, let a second alarm be struck to bring out a certain number more, or all of the companies. Upon the first alarm, the remote companies can get all ready for a start in case the second is given. The engineer of the company first at the place of fire could give the second alarm if found necessary."

Singularly enough another paper, yesterday morning, contained the following paragraph, embodying the results of the official action of the Committee and the Superintendent:

Owing to the number of slight fires and false alarms which have occurred recently, Chief Engineer Hare has found it necessary to direct Mr. Paisley, the Superintendent of the line, to hereafter signal only the steamers that may be in the district from which the alarm is given. In case a necessity should arise for the presence of the entire department, the alarm will be repeated. The city is divided into four signal circuits, in which the department is arranged as follows:

No. 1. Eagle, Allegheny and Vigilant.
No. 2. Niagara and Independence.
No. 3. Neptune and Good Intent.
No 4. Relief and Duquesne.

The fact of this suggestion and this official publication—so singularly alike in spirit—appearing simultaneously, is something remarkable. Perhaps it may be partially explained by the fact that the new arrangement had been for several days talked over by the Alarm authorities, and by the other fact that the intention was not to publish the new programme until this morning instead of yesterday morning. Can it be that the Dispatch yielded to a petty ambition for appearing to lead while it really followed?

Soldier's League of Allegheny.

As we announced, a special meeting of the Soldiers' League, of Allegheny, was held on Tuesday evening, at their Hall, on Water street, and was fully attended. After the reading of the minutes a number of applicants for membership were balloted for and elected, and several previously elected, introduced and initiated.

The Library Committee, through their Chairman, J. S. Edgar, reported flattering progress in the work entrusted to them, contributions of money and books being received to an extent not anticipated. The report was well received and a vote of thanks tendered to the committee for their exertions. A very flattering letter accompanied with a check for fifty dollars for the Library Fund from Felix R. Brunot, Esq., was read by the Corresponding Secretary, which, on motion, was accepted and ordered to be filed and the thanks of the League tendered to the distinguished gentleman; also that the Corresponding Secretary be instructed to reply to the communication and publish the correspondence in all the papers.

The example of Mr. Brunot is a truly noble one, and we heartily wish it might be largely followed. His handsome contribution was wholly unsolicited, and is therefore all the more agreeable to the members of the League. The Trustees reported that it was highly probable that the present Hall could be procured permanently for a Library room, the parties sub-letting the premises to the League, contemplating its vacation in a short time. No action was taken in the matter. The President, Alex. P. Callow, in pursuance of a resolution adopted at a previous meeting, appointed the following persons as a Lecture Committee: J. R. Oxley, J. G. Brown, J. C. Sample, J. Moore Kelsey, and Coroner Wm. Clawson. After an interesting discussion on various matters, the League adjourned to meet on Tuesday night.

Runaway Boy.

A lad of twelve years, named John Hopkins, left his father's house in Altoona, on Monday last, taking with him twenty dollars of his father's money, which he succeeded in abstracting from a trunk. The boy had often expressed a desire to go to work, and on inquiry at the ticket office of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Altoona, the father learned that the boy had purchased a ticket for Pittsburgh on Monday morning last, and would be in Pittsburgh in the evening. The friends of the family returned from Lancaster and started immediately for Pittsburgh, arriving here last evening. The only reason assigned for the boy's running off, is on account of having to go to school. He is a large boy of his age, and when he left home, had on a black slouch hat, brown coat, with large brass buttons, and drab pantaloons. Any one hearing of his whereabouts will confer a favor on the father and be rewarded, by leaving word at the Mayor's office, Pittsburgh, or by telegraphing to John Hopkins, Altoona.

Court of Common Pleas.

Court met as usual yesterday morning, Judge Sterrett on the bench.

In the case of Wm. Lindsey vs. Thomas W. Lindsey et. al., it was announced that the jury could not agree, and they were accordingly discharged.

In the case of J. A. Maute vs. George Gross, for damages resulting from fraudulent practices, as reported yesterday, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $1,000.

The next case was that of Jas. Wilson, Jesse R. Williams, Benjamin Williams, and Harvey Crawford, owners of the steamboat Advance No. 2, vs. Jas. McCabe, John Fackin and David J. Rogers. This was a suit for the recovery of $5,000 damages, the amount of the injuries alleged to have been sustained by the Advance No. 2 on the 30th of May, 1864, by coming in collision with a pier of the Old Aqueduct, on the Allegheny river. The case was on trial at the time of the adjournment.

District Court.

Yesterday morning in the District Court Hon. Moses Hampton presiding. The case of Alexander King vs. D. Stein, was taken up, Messrs. Strickler and C. B. M. Smith appearing for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Kirkpatrick and Mellon for the defendant. This is an action to recover damages, laid at $2,000, alleged to have been sustained by plaintiff by untenantlike conduct of defendant, while occupying the dwelling house at No. 102 Fifth street. A portion of the injury to the building for which damages are claimed, was done on the Fourth of July, 1865, by the arrangements made for an illumination, in celebration of the evening. The case is still on trial.

Another Rough on the Rampage.

Yesterday afternoon, at about three o'clock, a Point rough, named Martin Joice, became somewhat intoxicated, and while in that condition indulged in a little skylarking in the saloon of Hugh Sally, near the corner of Water and Liberty streets. An old river pilot, named Benjamin Morris, was in the saloon, and Joice attacked him, beating him quite severely before he could be removed. The ruffian was then put out, and immediately on reaching the street, attacked another old man, Captain Short. The barkeeper of Sally's saloon saw this and went to the rescue. He separated Joice from his infirm victim, knocked him down and punished him beautifully, leaving marks of his regards on his various features. At this juncture, officers Portzer and Barker, of the special police, came up and endeavored to arrest the bruiser He immediately showed desperate fight, attacking officer Portzer with energetic fury. That officer being in feeble health and also being lame with rheumatism, was unable to cope with his assailant, and the latter wrested the officer's handy-billy away from him and beat him over the head with it, inflicting several severe gashes on the head and various other serious injuries on the policeman. Officer Baker also was made to feel the fighting qualities of the desperado, but came off with fewer bruises than his associate. The ruffian made his escape from the officers and took up his quarters in a cellar on Point street, where he pronounced himself ready to receive the entire police force of the city. Meantime word was conveyed to the Mayor's office of what was going on, and Chief Hague, accompanied by officers McMullen, Moon, Wrigley and Barry; repaired to the place. Joice renewed his demonstrations, but with less effect than before. He fought desperately and broke two pairs of "nippers" before he could be secured, but secured he was eventually and marched to the lock-up, where he now awaits a hearing.

TO YEARLY ADVERTISERS.

Owing to the large amount of advertising patronage with which we are favored, and for which we are duly thankful, and the increase of our circulation, altogether beyond our present means to supply as promptly as we ought, we find it generally inconvenient, and sometimes quite impossible, to insert changes for yearly advertisers, unless left at our counting-room before seven o'clock in the evening.

SECRETARY M'CULLOCH'S REPORT.

Secretary M'CULLOCH's Report of the condition and prospects of our National finances is altogether the most interesting paper that we have had from that office for many a day, and deserves a much more careful analysis than we can give it at present. Various causes, outside of its real value as a State paper, conspire to lend it value. Six years ago we scarcely knew that we had such a thing as a national debt. The few fortunate holders of national obligations made, as we well remember, a terrible outcry just before the war broke out, because they were invited to accept 118 in gold, and return the bonds. Indeed they were very loth to do it, and complained bitterly that Uncle Sam had no right to pay his debts before they were due! Since that "golden age" of ease and plenty, we have seen rough times, and found out more than once, to our dismay, that "our crib was short of corn." As did other nations in like extremities, we began to try expedients, fooling ourselves meanwhile into the belief that because our experiments were on a larger scale, we would reach different and happier results than did others. But nature is always true to herself. Like causes continue to produce like results. Long running at the spiggot inevitably empties the barrel, as we found to our cost. We paid out golden dollars manfully while we could, since when we have been paying out credit in most lavish style. When peace came the country was nearly three thousand millions of dollars in debt; we had a vast floating currency of depreciated and irredeemable paper, a complicated and burdensome system of internal taxes. Free-Trade theorists, and resident English importers, silenced for a time by the pressure of the war, began new attempts to unsettle our Tariff policy, while the political horizon thickened with fresh complications in law and polity.

How stands the case to-day? The opening paragraph of the Secretary's report gives a pleasant promise of better things. He says, "the receipts of the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1866, have exceeded the estimates by about 90 millions, while the expenditures fall short of the estimate by over two hundred millions. Mr. McCULLOCH had himself, it is evident, but a narrow idea of the vast resources of the country. The decrease in expenditures was mainly in the War Department. The estimate made for the War office was three hundred millions. The actual expenses were only one hundred and nineteen millions.

The Secretary follows with a careful and clear tabular statement of our present indebtedness, and of the sources from which income has been drawn. The public debt on June 30th, 1865, less cash in the Treasury, was 2,681,000,000. The amount on the 31st of Oct., 1866, sixteen months later, was 2,551,424,121,20, showing a net decrease during that time, one year and four months, of 131 millions. The total decrease since the close of the war slightly exceeds two hundred millions. Mr. McCULLOCH justly adds, "these statements are in the highest degree encouraging. They are conclusive evidence of the greatness of our resources, and they clearly indicate the patience of the people under self-imposed burdens, and their unwillingness that this debt should be a perpetual incumbrance upon the country.

As to our future policy, the Secretary's views have undergone no change. He maintains the position taken nearly two years ago in his famous Fort Wayne speech, that a return to specie payments is not only desirable, which all classes will admit, but that its speedy attainment is of immediate importance. He proposes four methods, through the conjoint operation of which he believes the end can be reached: 1st. He would compel the National Banks to redeem their notes in New York. 2nd. He advises a curtailment of the currency by retiring greenbacks. The present rate of reduction is four millions per month. He would increase this to six millions per month for the present fiscal year, and to ten millions per month thereafter. 3d. He proposes to diminish the internal taxes and at the same time reduce the tariff on imports to harmonize with the alteration in internal revenue. He opposes the taxation of raw material, as oppressive to the laborer, and as adding largely to the cost of production. 4th. He asks for power to issue a new twenty year loan at five per cent. interest payable in London or on the Continent of Europe, for the purpose of absorbing the six per cents now held abroad. His arguments in favor of this point are clear and convincing, yet he stops short of what he should have asked for:—that is power to issue a new loan at five per cent., interest payable at home, or 4½ per cent. payable in Europe, large enough to gradually absorb the entire outstanding indebtedness of the country. 5th. He urges a speedy rehabilitation of the Southern States. Upon this point enough is said to show that he sides with the President rather than with Congress, although his remarks are in excellent temper, and should receive due consideration.

The question of a revision of the tariff has been committed to Mr. DAVID A. WELLS, Commissioner of Revenue, for a report thereon. The Secretary enters at some length upon a discussion of the subject, favoring "such modification of the tariff laws now in force, as will better adjust and equalize the duties upon foreign imports with the internal taxes upon home production." The amount of revenue he wants is only enough for an economical administration of the government, and the gradual reduction of the national debt. His argument derived from the decline in Ocean tonnage, lacks force and appositeness, because, during the rebellion, our merchantmen were driven from the sea by cruisers issuing from the ports of the nations who then reaped, and do yet, a good harvest from the destruction they accomplished. The tonnage of American vessels increased in 1866 over 1865, but not to the extent desired or expected. This failure is readily explained, by the almost total breaking-up of our shipbuilders during the war, and the cost of labor and material under a depreciated currency since then. These both, however, are changing for the better slowly, but surely and safely.

Before closing, the Secretary ventures the suggestion that specie payments may be resumed as early as the 1st of July, 1868, while he indulges the hope that it may be accomplished even earlier." It is well, perhaps, to keep the desired end in constant and near view, that tendencies to overtrading may be checked, but that a resumption can be safely brought about in anything near that time admits of conflicting opinions. Enactments will not do it. The country must be prepared for it, by a steady curtailment of currency, funding the short debt, reducing the burdensome Taxes, and accustoming the people to something analagous to the old order of things.

THE question whether all citizens have a right to participate, by voting, in the direction of the Government, confronts the British public as well as the American. There can be no doubt as to where the march of events will bring up.

THE Republican journals of New Jersey are manifesting considerable zeal for the election of Colonel FORNEY to the Senate for Pennsylvania. They say many pleasant things of him, which are doubtless deserved.

Nicolson Pavement.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

GENTLEMEN—On my return from the excursion up the valley of the Kansas on the Pacific Railway, Eastern Division, I stopped several days in St. Louis, and being struck with the beauty of the pavements of many of the principal streets, and with the pleasure it gave to ride over them, I thought it well to get all the information I could respecting them. To this end I went to see the men laying them, which is, when understood, a very simple operation.

The road bed is first prepared with a substantial layer of broken stone or gravel. When this is put into proper shape, a floor of inch boards, in the rough, is laid upon it longitudinally. It is then ready for the blocks, &c., &c.

The timber of which the blocks are made is first sawed into three inch plank of any width that the log will make. These plank are then sawed into pieces of exactly six inches in length, and are then ready for putting down. The workman then proceeds to set one row of these blocks from curb to curb, following of course the rounding of the gutters and of the street. That done he takes pieces of lath three quarters of an inch thick and from two and a half to three inches wide, and sets them on edge at the foot of the blocks and resting on the floor. In every space of four or five feet he drives a nail through the lath into a block to keep it close. Having carried his course of lath from side to side of the street, he proceeds to set in a second row of blocks as before, then a second range of lath, and so on to the end of the square.

When the work of laying has proceeded some fifteen or twenty feet, a slight sprinkling of coarse sand and gravel is cast upon the new made pavement, then another man follows with a vessel of coal tar, which he pours over the blocks, covering them completely, and which, with the sand and gravel previously cast upon it, fills the interstices which are left above the strips of lath. About a barrel of tar is used to a square of ten feet by ten. Two men then follow, one of whom has a stout instrument something like a river's "fro," fixed by a kind of hinge to a long handle, which he draws along the now loosely filled interstice, while his companion, with a heavy pavier's rammer, strikes it at short intervals, and drives the mingled tar and sand tightly into the space. A second and heavier covering of sand and gravel completes the operation.

There is a patent on this form of pavement. Samuel Nicolson, of Boston, is the patentee. He charges a royalty of $1.50 per square of one hundred feet. The authorities of St. Louis procured the right from Mr. Nicolson, and then let out the work by contract. Mr. Homer, the City Engineer, upon whom I called in reference to the matter, treated me with much courtesy, and gave me all the information I desired. He says the cost of pavement in St. Louis, made of white pine plank, which costs there $25.00 per M., "board measure," is $40.00 per square, or about double the cost of stone pavement. He stated that some of the heaviest commercial streets had been paved in this way for six years, and that they were still good. He thinks they will require renewing in about two years; but a large proportion of the materials will be fit to go down again. The blocks (which of course stand on end,) seem scarcely to wear at all; and as they rest upon a solid and level floor, they keep their places perfectly. I did not see a hole or depression anywhere.

A street so paved presents a beautiful appearance, having regular swells and depressions in each space of little less than four inches. Wheels roll over it smoothly and almost noiselessly, while horses step upon it with all the ease and confidence they do on a solid clay road. This pavement is easily scraped and swept, and of course is more free from dust than one made of stone.

Mr. Homer told me that he intended hereafter to burnetize the plank before laying them. He estimates the cost of this process at eight dollars per thousand; but the advantage is that the inferior woods can be used. He proposes to burnetize his plank whole; but I think that in this he errs.

Paving in St. Louis is done by special tax—each lot being assessed to the amount of pavement from the curb to the middle of the street and its proportionate share of the crossings.

I submit these facts and statements, not doubting that they will be interesting to many of the citizens of Pittsburgh and other cities.

Respectfully,
JOSIAH COPLEY.

The Farmer thinks that people in its neighborhood generally get rid of their bad money by bestowing it in charity.

—There has been formed in Paris a much-needed Humane Society for the Protection of Infants. It is calculated that 15,000 children die every year in the neighborhood of Paris for want of proper care, and 100,000 in the whole of France. This is in a great part due to the habit of putting children out to nurse where they are neglected and abused.

—Fifteen years ago Judge Bryan Mullanphy bequeathed one third of his property in trust to the city of St. Louis, for the relief of poor emigrants and travellers passing through the city on their way to settle in the West. The present value of the property is $750,000, but, according to the St. Louis papers, the "poor emigrants" have not yet received one penny from the fund.

—At Edinburg, Indiana, last week, a severe fire was subdued chiefly by the efforts of the women of the village. The men worked until they were exhausted, and their places were then supplied by their wives and daughters, who passed the buckets and worked the engines. Nevertheless, half a square of buildings was destroyed.

—Mr. T. B. Read's new painting, of a scene in "The Midsummer Night's Dream," does not illustrate the passage selected by Landseer, but that beginning "I know a bank." The picture represents Titania asleep and Oberon hovering over her, crushing a delicate flower—while Puck, astride of a fluttering moth, is overflowing with glee.

—Rosa Bonheur has lately been engaged upon a large picture of Highland cattle and drovers, a work which was interrupted by a singular contretemps. A prominent object in the picture is a dun-colored bull, and, to aid her in painting this thoroughly, the fair chevelier ordered a splendid animal of the kind from Scotland. The noble creature duly arrived at a French port, but embargo was laid upon him by the authorities on suspicion of rinderpest; and so, at latest advices, the picture was at a dead lock, as likewise was the bull.

TO THE DEBILITATED AND THE DECREPID.—For general debility and exhaustion of the powers of nature, whether occasioned by sickness, fast living, constitutional decay, old age, or any other physical or mental cause, the one thing needful and indispensable is HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS. When the fire of life seems to be absolutely dying out in the system, and the mind, sympathizing with the body, is reduced almost to a state of imbecility, this mighty Restorative seems, as it were, to lift the sufferer out of the Slough of Despond, and recruit and reinvigorate both the frame and the intellect. An old farmer in the Valley of the Monongahela writes thus to Dr. Hostetter: "I can compare the operation of your Bitters upon me to nothing but the effect of a rain after a long dry spell in the fall of the year. The rain falling on the meadows starts the second crop of grass, and your wholesome medicine seems to have started a second crop of life and spirits in." And this is truly the effect of this grateful and powerful preparation. Ladies of weak constitution, or whose strength has been impaired by sickness or age, find it a most efficacious and delightful Tonic, and it is administered with great success in marasmus or wasting of the flesh to young children. In fact, it is a much safer and surer cordial for the nursery than anything advertised especially for that purpose.

FOR THE MOST POPULAR

We are the most extensive publishers in the United States, (having six houses,) and therefore can afford to sell books cheaper and pay agents a more liberal commission than any other company.

Our series embraces the most popular works on all subjects of importance, and is selling rapidly both North and South.
Old agents, and all others, who want the best paying agencies, will please send for circulars and see our terms, and compare them and the character of our works with those of other publishers. Address

Meeting of the Lawrenceville Councils.

The Councils of Lawrenceville held their regular monthly meeting on Monday evening at their chamber.

Members present: Messrs. Weisenberger, Davison, Anderson, Wainwright, Estie, and Burgess Buffum.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The Finance Committee presented the following report:

RECEIPTS.
From sundry persons	$16,956 67
First ward taxes	2,774 32
Second ward taxes	3,840 19
Vehicle license	476 10
Total	$24,047 28

Expenditures by Treasurers, $24,527 08, leaving a balance due the Treasurer of $535 62. Bills were presented, amounting in all to $1,068 65, and warrants were ordered to be drawn for the amounts.

Final estimates of curbing and paving:

Bellefontaine street by R. Brachen	$12,346 90
Less amount paid	5,455 05
Balance due	$6,891 85
A warrant ordered to be drawn for borough street grading and curbing	$1,207 49
Less amount paid	301 87
	$905 62

A warrant was ordered to be drawn for $100. Grading on Pleasant alley by James Duane to date, $315 00.

The Street Committee reported as follows: The matter of irregular grading of sidewalks on Chestnut street was referred to the Street Commissioner, with instruction to barricade the dangerous places.

The Committee on Scales were authorized to employ a weighmaster for scales on Ewalt street.

An ordinance was read relating to the grading of streets and alleys in the borough. Laid over until next meeting.

The special committee on the plan of the borough presented their report. The committee recommended the vacation of Searl and Franklin streets, and the location of a new street to be called Jackson, on the line of the Jackson heir's and Steel Works property, to be forty feet wide from Butler street to the Allegheny river. They also recommend Irwin street be moved twenty-five feet west, and to be fifty feet in width, and to be called Shoenberger street; also, that the name of Harris street be changed to St. Mary's avenue; also, that Bellefontaine street be immediately opened from Valley street to the river, and Washington street from Bellefontaine street to the eastern borough line; also, the continuation of Chestnut street to the river, also, that Bates alley terminate at Valley street. The committee request Council to appoint viewers to assess damages for the widening of Wilkins street, between Bellefontaine and Shoenberger streets, and that the name of Wilkins street be changed to Dawson street. The committee say that the extension of Barrow street would cause great inconvenience to property holders, and they therefore recommend it to be abandoned.

On the acceptance and adoption of the report a lengthy debate was had, but upon being put to vote it was approved. The Treasurer's report was presented, which shows that the receipts of the borough to December 3d, was $43,600,10, and the expenditures and debts to the same time, $56,351,50, showing the borough to be in debt $12,751,40. Adjourned.

Criminal Court.

Court met at half-past nine o'clock yesterday morning, Judge Stowe on the bench. The first case taken up was that of Patrick Brown and John Sullivan, charged with surety of the peace, on oath of John Dougan. There was no testimony against Brown and he was discharged, but Sullivan was required to enter bail in two hundred dollars to keep the peace for one year. The alleged offense was committed at Courtney's Station on the 15th of October.

Bridget M'Laughlin was found guilty on an indictment for assault and battery. She was sentenced to pay a fine of one dollar and the costs of prosecution. The assault consisted in throwing a bucket of water on a child suffering from whooping cough at Hatfield on Nov. 3d.

Ellen Aiken was acquitted on a charge of assault and battery, and the prosecutrix, Margaret Ford sentenced to pay the costs. The parties reside at Hatfield, and the alleged assault occurred on the 27th of October.

The next case taken up was that of Harvey Dollison, indicted for burglary. The defendant was charged with burglariously entering the dwelling house of John W. Bell, at No. 25 Bank alley, Sixth ward, on the night of the 16th of June last, and stealing therefrom two feather pillows, one bolster, two army blankets, one bed comfort, quilt and table cover. The goods were found at a pawnbroker's some time afterwards, having been sold by Dollison. For the defense witnesses were called, who testified that the goods claimed by Bell were the property of Dollison, and that that they knew he had sold them, being compelled to do so to raise money. An attempt was also made to prove the allegation that Bell had offered to compromise the case for seventy-three dollars. A verdict of guilty was rendered and the prisoner sentenced to pay a fine of $5, and the costs of the prosecution and undergo an imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary of five years and six months.

The case of Wm. Downie, charged with rape on the person of Elizabeth Tetherington was next taken up. John Tetherington, the father of the girl, was the prosecuting witness and testified that the defendant boarded at his house in West Pittsburgh. On the night of October 20th, Downie went up stairs to go to bed, and immediately afterwards the little girl, a child of twelve years, was heard to cry out. The father ran up stairs and was just in time to see the defendant get hastily into bed. The child stated that Downie, in passing through his room, had got into bed with her and violated her person, which statement was corroborated by her condition. The case is still on trial.

Tender Regard.

The Doylestown Democrat is responsible for the following little domestic sketch.

It will be remembered that two weeks, since we noticed the fact that a man named Blank, had been run over by a train of cars, near Freemansburg, on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and instantly killed. Coroner Brunner, of Bethlehem, at the request of some of the Jury, sent a messenger to his residence at Emaus, Lehigh county, to inform his family of his death. The messenger thought he would endeavor to tell the sad news to the distressed wife in as feeling a manner as possible, but he soon found that tenderness, in that quarter, was like throwing pearls to swine. She received the intelligence of his death very calmly and said she was "glad he was gone!" The messenger told her that if his corpse was not removed by his friends, immediately, that it would be taken to the poor house for burial. She replied that "she did not intend to bother her head about him—they might bury him in h—l, for all she cared." Coroner Brunner kept his body until he was satisfied his friends intended to pay no attention to it, and then had it interred at the County poor house.

The fair will continue during the week, and the proceeds devoted to the new church building, now in process of erection, on the corner of Beaver street and North Common.

At the fair, vases, tidies, toys, confectionaries, christmas trees, children's clothing, fancy articles of all kinds, sewing machines, gentlemen's dressing gowns and slipper &c., will be offered for sale on reasonable terms.

At the festival, refreshments consisting of ice cream, jellies, fruit, oysters, coffee, candies, turkey, chicken, ham, &c., will be furnished to those giving them a call.

The Hall will be handsomely decorated with evergreens, the American flag &c., and music in the evening. Remember the time, December 18th, 19th, 20th and 21st.

A Murderer on His Travels.

The Reading Dispatch says: On Monday last Mrs. Harriet Musson was murdered in the village of Mogadore, Ohio, by a man named Wilson Shannon Roof. It is supposed that the murderer came east and is now in our city. Our police should be on the alert. He is about twenty years old, five feet eight or nine inches high, light hair, smooth face, prominent chin, very large mouth, fine set of teeth, oblong scar above right eye; is a potter by trade, with finger nails worn short and sharp. When last seen he had on a dark and blue sack coat, light pants and vest, and a black felt slouch hat. A large reward is offered for his apprehension by James Burlison, Sheriff of Summit county, who may be addressed at Akron, Ohio.

New Great Seal of Ohio.

Governor Cox has issued a proclamation establishing a new great seal for the State of Ohio, describing it as follows: "A round seal, two and a half inches in diameter, having upon the margin the words, 'The Great Seal of the State of Ohio;' within an escutcheon containing as devices—in the left foreground a bundle of seventeen arrows, and on the right of the arrows a sheaf of wheat, both upright; in the background, a range of mountains, over which appears a rising sun; from the base of the mountain a river is represented flowing toward the right foreground; under the shield a label containing the words, 'Imperium in Imperio.'"

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Rumored Cabinet Changes.

CAUCUS OF REPUBLICAN SENATORS.

United States Supreme Court.

NEW YORK, December 5.—A special dispatch says: Rumors are beginning to circulate again of a change in the State Department. It is now said that Hon. Reverdy Johnson is likely soon to take the place of Secretary of State. At all events it is pretty certain that something has gone wrong recently; for it is generally whispered in diplomatic circles that Mr. Seward will soon retire.

The Republican Senators were in caucus for the purpose of arranging a standing Committee of the Senate. The Committee who have charge of the matter were not ready to make their report, and they adjourned to meet to-morrow at eleven o'clock. It appears there is some difficulty in arranging the chairmanship of three or four important Committees, a special Committee having decided to depose Doolittle from the Chairmanship of the Indian Committee, Dixon from the Post Office Committee, and Cowan from the important Committee which he holds. They are casting about to get proper men to take these positions, and up to this evening had not determined on the programme to be carried out. Matters will be fully decided in to-morrow's caucus. The Senators to be deposed have no idea of what is going on.

After the committee question is disposed of a move will be made in the caucus to bring up the question of electing a new Vice President in place of Mr. Foster. It will be opposed by several Republican Senators, who are disinclined to make any changes at present. The friends of Senator Wade, however, are determined to push the matter vigorously, and secure his election at once, so as to guard against accident. It is doubtful whether anything can be done now in the matter. It is said to be the intention to have an election before the 4th of March.

It is reported that Secretary M'Culloch, anticipating the action which Congress is likely to take, has ordered Mr. Van Dyck, Assistant Treasurer at New York, to sell gradually a few millions of gold. It is pretty certain that Congress will pass the bill which Gov. Boutwell submitted yesterday on this subject. There has already accumulated nearly one hundred millions in the Treasury.

Representative Bingham, of Ohio, emphatically denies the truth of the paragraph so extensively published, that he was preparing articles against the President, on the ground of complicity in the assassination of the late President Lincoln. He says he never had such an idea, and therefore never so intimated.

Associate Justice Greer took his seat to-day. This makes a full bench of the Supreme Court of the United States. Under the rule only ten cases on the docket can be settled each day. The ten called this morning were of the sixty pending since the commencement of the rebellion, relating to Southern litigants; fifteen of them were to-day submitted on printed arguments, four of which were continued and one argued.

Senator Williams, of Oregon, will introduce into the Senate on Wednesday, the following resolution:

Resolved. That the Committee on the Judiciary be instructed to made inquiry as to the power of the President to restore property confiscated under the laws of the United States to its original owner, or if such power exist, to what extent it can be exercised under existing laws, and also, to make inquiry into the power of the Secretary of the Treasury to deliver to private claimants therefor, without judical proceedings, property or the proceeds of property seized by the United States as captured or abandoned, during or since the late rebellion, and to report by bill or otherwise.

The Trial of Fenians.

SWEETSBURG, C. E., December 5.—The Court just closed, and resumed the murder trials. There are some circumstances connected with Madden's attempt last night to set fire to the jail, which indicate the presence of confederates outside. The vessel which Madden had filled with live coals was not a pail drinking cup as previously telegraped, but a tin box with cover, which could not possibly have been in possession of the prisoners when admitted to jail, as all of them underwent a minute search. It is certain that it must have been conveyed to him into the jail. Other circumstances also indicates outside confederates, on Monday afternoon a person residing near discovered in the jail yard conversing with the prisoners, but the police allowed him to escape, but he is known. Guards are now posted at every point outside, where it would be possible to hold communication with prisoners. Madden is to be kept in his cell for forty-eight hours, on bread and water, to allow him to meditate on the failure of his incendiary scheme.

The Sinking of the Steamer Scotland.

NEW YORK, December 5.—The steamship Scotland was abandoned at daylight yesterday morning, all hands leaving in the ship's boats, the Captain, first officer and pilot each having charge of a boat. The boat in charge of the pilot landed on Sandy Hook. He reports that the others were swamped, but believes all hands were saved. A steam tug was at the wreck when he left. Captain Hennessey saw two ships' boats adrift, one of which he picked up. The ship was breaking up very rapidly. The cargo of cotton, cheese, &c., was floating about and strewn along the beach.

Matters in Ireland—Reward for the Arrest of James Stephens.

NEW YORK, December 5.—The World's Dublin correspondence, under date November 21st says: A reward of one thousand pounds has been offered for the arrest of James Stephens.

There is a perfect stagnation in commercial circles. Trade is at a complete stand still. The potato crop is alleged to be a failure, and everything goes to prove that if something is not done for Ireland during the coming year the country will present a picture of misery and poverty worse than in previous times.

From Canada—Cavalry School to be Established—Arrest.

TORONTO, C. W., December 5.—The Toronto Field Battery has received a complete set of new brass guns from England.

A Cavalry School of Instruction is to be established here, under supervision of officers of the 13th Hussars.

A man named M'Devet was arrested yesterday evening, charged with using seditious language. He will be brought before court this morning.

FOR SALE—400 Acres of Coal Land, lying immediately upon the Ohio River, 20 miles below Gallipolis, and 185 miles above Cincinnati. On the above tract is a four foot vein of Coal, which, for general purposes, is not surpassed. It is entirely different from the Southern Ohio Coal; contains but little sulphur, forges and cokes well, and for making steam cannot be excelled. The location being about midway from Pomeroy and Hanging Rock, must make it valuable for coaling boats. There is a water front of ¾ of a mile, with a good landing at all stages of the river. An entrance has been run in the hill about 300 feet, track finished to river, together with the necessary fixtures for mining and delivering coal afloat. On said tract is first-class double Portable Circular Saw Mill together with a Portable Grist Mill, all in good running order, and plenty of the very best oak, ash and poplar timber. Would sell one-half interest if desired, to a party with experience and capital for working same.

PURE CALIFORNIA WINES.
GURNER & CO.,
No. 80 Cedar St., New York,

Offer for sale these valuable Wines, which are gaining public favor with astonishing rapidity, and whose unprecedented and unrivalled popularity is not without merit. They have only to be fairly tested to give them the preference over all others. As a purifier of blood they excel all other Wines, and the numerous certificates which have voluntarily been tendered from the most eminent physicians, as well as gentlemen in every position in life, are proof conclusive that these Wines are useful in all cases for which they are recommended.

The following brands are now offered by us. They comprise all the varieties now grown in the State suitable for sale:

WHITE, or HOCK WINE—Of a light straw color, very delicate and fine flavored.
CLARET—A superior wine for table use.
ANGELICA—A rich and naturally sweet wine, much admired by ladies, and valuable in the sick chamber, as it makes fine wheys and jellies. It is a fine dessert wine, and well adapted for Communion purposes.
MUSCATEL—A light colored, highly aromatic wine. Very similar to the celebrated Tokay.
PORT—Deep red color, fine flavor, and in many respects similar to the old wines of Lisbon.
GRAPE BRANDY—The pure distillation of our wines.
WINE BITTERS—A very agreeable tonic and a sure remedy for the diarrhea.

This is one of the most valuable combinations of a useful and an agreeable beverage that has ever been offered to the public. Millions of bottles were sold throughout the North during the last four years, and wherever introduced it has proved a welcome addition to the invalid table, the family circle, and the bachelor's sideboard.

Ladies who have lost strength and appetite, and suffer from nausea, vomiting and vertigo; gentlemen who "don't feel very well" just before breakfast or dinner, whose stomachs are out of order and whose systems are generally deranged; mothers weaning children and suffering from general debility; children of sickly nature and sour, dyspeptic constitutions; travelers who have occasion to change their water; and all who live in malarious districts and are subject to miasmatic influences, will find it one of the most valuable invigorators that can be taken.

It was used very extensively in 1861, with such general satisfaction that in offering it to the public now we deem it unnecessary to publish any of the many certificates that we have received, testifying in the very strongest terms in its favor. All that we can say is to guarantee that we will pledge ourselves to furnish an article PURE AND UNADULTERATED.

It has been given to little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill has been exhausted, has been entirely restored. She began with but a teaspoonful a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased and she is now well.

VERY LATEST TELEGRAMS.

THIRTY-NINTH CONGRESS,

(SECOND SESSION.)

WASHINGTON, December 5, 1866.

SENATE.

After prayer the journal of yesterday was read.

On leave being given, Mr. Wade introduced a bill for the admission of the State of Nebraska, which was read a first and a second time and laid over.

The bill passed by the House to repeal the confiscation section of the act of 1862, in regard to suppressing the insurrection, &c., was discussed at some length on a motion by Mr. Chandler to proceed to its consideration. Mr. Chandler reiterates the charge that women of questionable character had hawked pardons about this city, giving as his authority a Judge of the Supreme Court of this district. He urged the passage of the bill.

Mr. Howe thought it should be sent to the Judiciary Committee. It should not be hurriedly considered.

Mr. Grimes opposed the considering of the resolution now. He feared that the country would regard this haste as an attempt to incite the President to do the very thing sought to be avoided.

Mr. Byckson, of Connecticut, contradicted the statements by Mr. Chandler in regard to the sale of pardons, and said there was no truth in it, although he was not at liberty to state the real facts of the case now. He hoped the bill would be referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Trumbull advocated referring the bill for the present, but hoped it would not be supposed that he opposed the bill.

Mr. Chandler withdrew his objection to the reference, and took that course.

Mr. Anthony asked and obtained unanimous consent that the rule requesting standing committees to be elected by ballot be waived. He offered a resolution constituting the standing committees as follows:

Foreign Relations—Messrs. Sumner, Chairman; Harris Wade, Fowler, Fogg, Johnson and Doolittle.

Finance—Messrs. Fessenden, Chairman; Sherman, Gorman, Williams, Cattell, Van Wynkle and Guthrie.

Commerce—Chandler, Chairman; Morrill, Morgan, Edmund, Cresswell, Sprague, and Patterson.

Manufacture—Messrs. Sprague, Chairman, Pomeroy, Fowler, Riddle, Dixon.

Agriculture—Messrs. Sherman, Chairman, Cattell, Wilson, Cowan, Guthrie.

Military—Messrs. Wilson, Chairman, Lane, Howard, Sprague, Brown, Nesmith, Doolittle.

Naval Affairs—Messrs. Grimes, Chairman, Anthony, Wiley, Ramsey, Craig, Nye, Hendricks.

Judiciary—Messrs. Trumbull, Chairman, Harris, Poland, Stewart, Frelinghuysen, Johnson, Hendricks.

Postoffice and Post Roads—Messrs. Ramsey, Chairman; Conness, Pomroy, Anthony, Kirkwood, Van Winkle and Dixon.

Public Lands—Messrs. Pomroy Chairman; Stewart, Harris, Kirkwood, Edmonds, Cattell and Hendricks.

Private Land Claims—Messrs. Harris Chairman; Howard, Poland, Riddle and Morton.

Indiana Affairs—Messrs. Henderson Chairman; Trumbull, Merrill, Ross, Nesmith, Buckalew and Doolittle.

Pension Laws—Messrs. Kirkwood Chairman; Edmonds, Ross, Frelinghuysen, Van Winkle and Saulsbury.

Revolutionary Claims—Messrs. Yates Chairman; Chandler, Fogg, Nesmith and Saulsbury.

Claims—Messrs. Howe, Chairman; Williams, Sherman, Wiley, Fogg, Frelinghuysen and Davis.

District of Columbia—Messrs. Morrill, chairman; Wade, Sumner, Henderson, Nye, Patterson and McDougall.

Patent and Patent Offices—Messrs. Wiley, Chairman; Law, Grimes, Norton and Cowan.

Public Buildings and Grounds—Messrs. Brown, Chairman; Trumbull, Grimes, Poland and McDougall.

On Territories—Messrs. Wade, Chairman; Nye, Cragin, Fowler, Davis, and Cowan.

On Pacific Railroad—Messrs. Howard, Chairman; Sherman, Morgan, Conness, Yates, Brown, Cragin, Ramsey, and Stewart.

Mines and Mining—Messrs. Conness, Chairman; Stewart, Chandler, Morgan, Cresswell, Wilson, and Buckalew.

To Audit Contingent Expenses of the Senate—Messrs. Williams, Chairman; Henderson, and Buckalew.

Engrossed Bills—Messrs. Cregan, Chairman; Sumner and Norton.

Joint Standing Committee on Printing—Messrs. Anthony, Chairman; Ross and Riddle.

On Enrolled Bills—Messrs. Nye, Chairman; Howe and Dixon.

On Library—Messrs. Cresswell, Chairman; Howe and Fessenden.

The resolution was adopted.

On motion various portions of the President's Message were referred to appropriate committees.

Mr. Sumner introduced his resolution in regard to reconstruction, and the duty of Congress in relation thereto. He then read a letter from Texas, alleging that the government of that state was a shame, and was in appropriation to the Union as well as that of the State Legislature is denied the right to practically restore the institution of slavery. The resolution was laid over.

A number of bills, etc., previously introduced were then referred to the appropriate committees.

The Senate concurred in the joint resolution from the House, empowering the Committee on Reconstruction, appointed last session, to continue its labors.

Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. Williams, of Pennsylvania, moved to reconsider the bill regulating appointments to office reported by him at the last session, and then proceeded to argue in favor of the bill. It vested, he said, on the hypothesis that the power of removal did not rightly belong to the President alone, under the constitution, and that it could not be safely left with him without restraint upon its exercise, and this upon a general principal, and without any reference to the merits or demerits of the existing functionary. It aimed at the reformation of a great vice in the administration of the government by bringing its practice back to the truth and meaning of the fundamental law. In doing so it disturbed no titles and attacked no judicial precedent. It contemplated merely a review of our legislative opinion of yesterday, and it was not the first time that opinion had been questioned. It had been anticipated by a denial of an authoritative character. It was the opinion of a divided court, and it was not even old enough to be venerable, but to estimate justly the weight to which it was entitled it would be necessary to show its precise extent, the circumstances by which it was attended, and the argument by which it was sustained. It was noted that, while those who were opposed to the adoption of the Constitution had objected, that it would give to the President the executive power of a king, and even the advocates of its adoption claimed that it was intended to give him the eminently kingly power of removing the other officers of the government at his own individual will. On the meeting of the first Congress, however, the question came up whether the head of the department of foreign affairs should be removable at the will of the President, one party claiming that the power of removal was included in the power to appoint, and contending that it could be exercised only in connection with the Senate, the other, at the head of which was Madison, contending that it was thus entrusted with a great power, which, however, was so prudently and conscientiously exercised for a long time, that the confidence reposed in the Executive seemed to be justified, and when the statesman of a latter period became alarmed at the use that was made of that power, it was found to be in vain, because a triumphant party looking to the offices of the government as its lawful spoil, resisted successfully every attempt to go back to the true reading of the Constitution.

Mr. Williams then proceeded to argue at length in favor of the policy of restoring the Executive powers, and quoted freely from political authorities and legal decisions in support of his views. He then reviewed the course of the present Executive and his avowals of the policy he intended to pursue in this respect, arguing that the interests of the country, the principle of the Constitution and the dignity of the people and of Congress, and as their representatives, all demanded that the power of the President should be restricted by the passage of this bill, and that if the Executive then failed or refused to obey the will of the people, the obstacles should be removed. At the conclusion of Mr. Williams' speech, he said he did not wish to press the passage of the bill at this time, and moved that the previous question on the resolution be reconsidered.

Mr. Schenck, of Ohio, hoped the motion would be withdrawn and the motion to reconsider should prevail. He desired to have the bill referred to the Joint Select Committee on Retrenchment, to which the whole subject had been committed.

Mr. Stevens thought it had better be referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Kasson inquired if there had been any change made in the first section of the bill.

Mr. Perham, of Maine, from the Committee on Pensions reported the Senate a bill to provide for the payment of pensions. The bill authorizes the President to establish agencies for the payment of pensions wherever in his judgment the public interest and convenience of pensioners require, agents to be appointed by and with the consent of the Senate, and to hold office for a term of four years.

Mr. Washburn, of Illinois, desired to offer two or three amendments to the bill. As it stood, it conferred upon the President power to establish agencies for the payment of pensions, whenever, in his judgment, the public interest and the convenience of pensioners required. He was opposed to giving that power to the President, of that part of the bill, and all other similar parts if there were any so as to make it necessary for the President to send to Congress the names of places where he wished to establish agencies, and of the persons he desired to appoint as agents.

Mr. Lawrence said that if these portions were struck out there would be nothing left of the bill.

Mr. Washburne said, no matter; he would move to strike them out and to amend the bill so as to limit the number of pension offices in any one State or Territory to three, and provide that no pension agencies in addition to those now existing should be established in any State or Territory in which the whole amount of pensions paid during the fiscal year next proceeding shall not have exceeded $500,000.

Mr. Nelson, of Iowa, moved to recommit the bill with amendments to the Committee, with power to report it at any time. Agreed to.

After the presentation of one or two other reports, the House adjourned.

Immediately after adjournment, the Clerk gave notice that an adjourned caucus of Union members of the House, would be held at seven o'clock this evening.

Another One at It.—Coat stealing is the correct thing now among the select circles of the fancy. The last case we believe, is that of James Crowley stealing a coat from James Nugent, from the platform of the Allegheny Valley Railroad Depot. Nugent made information before the Mayor against Crowley and he was arrested by officer Scott, and taken before the Mayor for a hearing. The hearing resulted in Crowley being committed to jail for trial in default of the necessary bail.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, December 5, 1866. }

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 139⅜; 1881's, 113¾; 5-20's old, 108⅜; do '65, 107⅜; 5-20s, new 109¼; 10-40s,100¼; 7-30s, first series, 105⅞; second series 105⅝. Michigan Southern R. R., 81¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 84¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 105¼; Chicago & Rock Island, 103⅞; Reading 111¾; Chicago & Northwestern, 50⅛; Erie, 72¾; Western Union Telegraph Co., 45⅞.

The upward tendency in the Railway list so apparent yesterday, has been slightly checked. Save in Governments, the entire market opens a shade lower this morning. Gold is weaker by nearly two per cent, whether to remain so is a question the Secretary of the Treasury can more easily solve than any one else just now. He has the gold to spare, and will doubtless sell from day to day as he may think the condition of the market requires. His report upon specie payments meets the approval of the Tribune, but is fiercely assailed by the Herald's writer on finance. On the other hand, the Herald man endorses his tariff views, while the Tribune skips over, or but barely mentions that portion of the report.

Our local stock market has improved somewhat this week. There is really a good deal of money seeking investment, but the wants of late have all been in one direction, until bank shares are up so high that but few of them will pay the purchasers over six per cent on their investment. The tide is turning again, and we have more bank stock on the market for the past two days, though prices are yet firm. Sales of the old Bank of Pittsburgh at 67; of the Exchange at same; of Fourth National at 100; of M. & M. National at 65; 108 bid for Bank of Commerce; 113 for Tradesmans National; Citizens National offered at 65¼. Sales of Columbia Oil Company at 15¼.

—The report of the Secretary of the Treasury commends itself with unusual force to all business men. It reiterates the declaration of his famous Fort Wayne speech and his previous official statements fully, and he takes bold ground in favor of specie payments, which he thinks can be reached by July, 1868, or after the maturity and funding of the 7-30 notes. It will be seen that he asks no new power, so far as funding is concerned, but is of opinion that the legal tenders should be withdrawn faster than the law at present allows. In regard to an expansion of National Bank currency, he is equally sound. He recognizes the wants of the South, but would supply them by taking from the North currency now used by them in violation of the distribution made during the early history of the Bank law. His recommendation that the banks be made to redeem their issues practically is one that Congress should heed.—N. Y. Tribune.

—The much talked of report of the Secretary of the Treasury was made public to-day, and we give it in full in this paper. As usual, its effect was more than discounted, the response in New York being an advance in stocks of all descriptions. The money market was also easier in New York under a favorable bank statement. We have no space to refer at any length to the report of Mr. McCulloch, but the facts presented when analyzed, show that the only road to specie payments is by means of a slow and steady contraction of the currency. There can be no rapid movements that will not delay rather than hasten a return to a solid basis. No one will dispute the Secretary's conclusion as to the evil consequences upon the business and morals of the country of a redundant supply of irredeemable paper money, but the mischief in this direction has all been done, and the question now is as to the best way out of the difficulty.—Cin. Gazette.

—The money market presents no new features. Owing to the disagreeable weather, business at the banks was generally rather dull. The volume of currency is steadily decreasing, owing to the continued shipments to the east to make exchange; and the market is gradually working less easy. Still there is no appearance of closeness, and all good paper is readily discounted at the usual rate. The rates in open market are 12@18 per cent, according to the standing of the applicant.—Chicago Tribune.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, December 5, 1866. }

There are no new features in the produce markets worthy of special notice. The movements in the leading commodities continue very much restricted, in consequence of the fact that the demand is confined almost entirely to supplying the most pressing wants of both retailers and consumers, and the impression seems to be general, that values have not yet "touched bottom." The receipts of Flour and Grain have commenced to fall off, though, the supply seems to be considerably in excess of the demand, and the same remarks will apply to a great many other articles we might mention.

GRAIN—There is no improvement to note in the demand for Wheat; we can report a sale of 139 bush strictly prime No. 1 Spring at $2,62—delivered in Allegheny City. Oats dull and nominally unchanged—48 to 50, on track, and the usual advance for small lots in store. New Corn is held at 63 to 65, and receipts falling off. Sale of 1 car Rye, on track, at $1,28, and 2 cars at $1,33, delivered. Barley is very dull, and from all that we can learn, No. 1 Spring cannot fairly be quoted above $1—choice, $1,05.

FLOUR—The market for Flour continues dull and neglected, though prices are not quotably lower. We continue to quote at $11½ to $12½ for prime to choice brands of Spring Wheat; $13 to $13½ for Winter Wheat, and $14 to $16 for Fancy Brands. Rye Flour is quoted at $8½ per bbl, and Buckwheat at $4½ per cwt.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is dull, and prices are nominally unchanged. New kettle rendered Lard is selling at 13¾. Some few small lots of Mess Pork arriving, but thus far, we have heard of no sales.

HAY—Is firm, with a demand fully up to the supply, and prices are well sustained. Prime baled sells readily at 30, and loose is selling at scales at $30 to $33, according to quality.

MILL FEED—There seems to be a fair demand for Middlings, and we can report sales at prices ranging from $1,80 to $2 per cwt, as to quality. There is also some inquiry for Shorts and Shipstuffs, but we are without sales.

POTATOES—Steady with regular sales of prime Peach Blows at 90 cts per bushel, and $2,87 to $3 per bbl.

APPLES—Dull with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, but unchanged—sales at $2½ to $3½ per bbl.

EGGS—Steady with a demand fully equal to the supply, and we can report sales at 35 for pickeled, and 38 for fresh packed.

BUTTER—Continues very dull but nominally unchanged. Roll is selling at from 25 to 30.

OIL—Lard Oil is quoted at $1,28 to $1,30 for No. 1, and $1 for No. 2.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, December 5, 1866. }

CRUDE—There is no improvement to note in the general tone of the market, and if anything, the feeling to-day was weaker than for some time past. The advices from the east being unfavorable for Refined, as always is the case, had a tendency to restrict the demand for Crude, and with considerable offering and very little wanted, prices were barely maintained. We now quote at 9 to 9½, in bulk and barrels returned, and 14 to 14½, bbls included—sales early in the day of 1400 bbls, in two lots, at 9¼. Small lots of choice gravity to fill orders for shipment, may be quoted from ¼ to ½ a cent per gallon higher, and the supply of this particular description is very light. Late advices from Oil City report crude dull and lower, being quoted at $3 at that point. Taking gold as a basis, oil is about as cheap now as it ever has been in the history of the trade.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil continues dull and weak, and prices have still further declined. The best offers reported in Philadelphia to-day were 30 to 31 cts, which is a decline of from 1 to 2 cents compared with the figures current on Monday and Tuesday—and we can report a sale of 500 bbls for all this month, buyer's option, at 31. Later in the day it was reported "standard white" was offered in Philadelphia at 31, and if correct, prime light straw to white cannot fairly be quoted above 30 cts. Free oil is dull but nominally unchanged; we can report a sale of one hundred barrels, a favorite brand, at 48. In a retail way, we quote at 50 to 52.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals were reported to-day:

Fisher & Bro	5600	D. M. Edgerton	900
Brewer & Burke	50	Lucesco Oil Co	6500

Total.......12550

Chicago Market.

The prospectus of a first mortgage, 7 per cent. loan, free of Government tax, of the St. Louis, Jacksonville and Chicago Railroad, is advertised here.

LATEST

The gold market was heavy and lower, with an increased pressure to sell. The telegrams from Washington in relation to sales of gold by the treasury, and the prospect of the new gold bill, exercises a depressing effect upon the market. It was the general impression this morning that the Government was selling, but we can state officially, that such is not the case. The Government securities were weak this afternoon on the lower gold quotations. The following were the closing prices: Registered of 1881, 108⅝@108¾; coupons of 1881, 113⅛@113¼; 5-20s registered of 1862, 106½@106¾; 5-20 coupons of '62, 108⅜@108½; 5-20 coupons of '64, 106⅜@106½; 5-20 coupons of '65, 107⅜@107½; 5-20 do January and July, 108⅞@109; 10-40s registered, 99⅞@100¼; August 7-30s, 105⅝@105⅞; June 7-30s, 105⅛@105¾; July 7-30s, 105¼@105½; June compounds of '64, 108½@108⅝; July do, 115⅞@116; August do, 115¼@115⅜.

At the last open board stocks were generally a fraction lower with a fair business. After the call the market was steady. Among the steamship shares Pacific Mail was the feature; the stock fell to $1,68. The cause of this fluctuation was a rumor of an injunction on the stock. The following are the closing quotations at 4:30 p. m: Ohio and Michigan Central, 28½@29½; Boston Water Power, 30¼@30¾; Canton, 44⅞@47½; Cumberland county, 60@70; Quicksilver, 44½@46; Mariposa M, 12⅜; do, Philadelphia, 31⅞@31⅝; Western Telegraph, 46¼@46¾; N. Y. C., $1,11@1,11¼; Reading, $1,11⅛@1,11¼; Michigan Central, $1,10@1,12¼; Michigan Southern, 80¼@80⅜; Illinois Central, $1,17¼; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 84⅜@84½; Cleveland and Toledo, $1,12¼@1,12½.

Mining shares were steady, but business quite moderate; Central, 150; Bennehoff Run, 140; New York & Allegheny, 550; Ayer's M. & M., 400; Consolidated Gregory, 1,085; New York Gold, 12; Corydon, 275; Walkill Lead, 140; Excelsior, 32; Cherry, special, 25.

New York Dry Goods Trade.

NEW YORK, December 5.—The Dry Goods market is quiet but steady, with a fair trade. The meeting of Congress and the President's Message was entirely without any effect upon the market. With lower prices for cotton dry goods must naturally soften a little, but holders are too confident to leave any prospect of any further decline than the decline in raw material and the actual cost of production is reduced. The margin of profit on the manufacture of cotton goods is reported as great enough to warrant the mills running on reduced time. Some mills are reporting lower wages as a preferable step to stopping and throwing numbers of poor people out of employment. Brown Sheetings and Shirtings—are quiet, with the exception of Standard and other leading prime marks, which are ½c higher in jobbers hands. Bleached Sheetings and Shirtings—There is a light steady business; Prime without quotable change; trade quiet and uniform in Ticks, but Stripes are without particular moment. There is little or no demand for Cotton Flannels. Cambrics and Silesias—There is a steady demand from home dealers, and prices are steady. Drills—Quiet and prices lower. The price of Denims and Cottonades have been reduced a little to correspond with the price of other goods. Woolen goods are unprecedented and mild weather of the entire season largely affected. Business in woolen goods—the short time of some mills and the stopping of others, is somewhat favorable to a better market, and holders of goods show a better feeling. Delaines and linseys are in only moderate supply, but sufficient for the present light trade. Of cloths and cassimeres but few goods are called for, excepting leading styles for immediate manufacture into clothing or some other grades for ready made clothing. For spring trade the market for foreign goods shows a slight improvement from lighter importations and rather a better prevailing demand consequent upon lower prices. Fashionable styles of goods steady and not very abundant, but most other goods very low. The auction sales for to-morrow are a special sale of British, French and German dress goods, silks, shaws, &c, sale of black ribbons, a sale of blankets and a sale of hosiery and Germantown goods.

New York Produce Market.

NEW YORK, December 5.—Cotton lower and in better demand, at 33½@35½c for middling. Flour is in rather request, but prices are generally without decided alteration, the market closing heavy; extra State $9,65@10,20; superfine western $7,50@9,30; extra western $8,50@10,60; choice do $10,70@11,80; round hoop Ohio $10@11,15; trade brands $11,20@13. Wheat has a little steadier feeling to-day, but transactions have only been to a very limited extent, common No. 2 Milwaukee $2,00. Rye heavy and dull; sale of State at $1,20. Barley moderately active at low prices; 90@91c for Canada West in bond and $1,16 for Canada free. Barley malt dull. Corn moderately active at about previous prices; $1,15 for shipping mixed western in store, $1,15@1,16 for do afloat, and $1,15 for white western in store. Oats declining, at 61@62½c for Chicago and Milwaukee, and 62½@63c for new Ohio. Pork opened firm but closed with less firmness, at $20,37@20,50c for new mess, $19,62½@20,0 for old do, closing at $20 for regular and $19 for prime. Beef dull, heavy and unchanged. Cut Meats heavy and dull, at 9@10½c for shoulders, and 11@13c for hams. Bacon nominal. Dressed Hogs quiet, at 8¼@9¼c for western. Lard more active but heavy, at 11½@13c. Butter dull, at 15@28c for Ohio, 28@36c for State, and 40@45c for Orange county—in pails. Cheese quiet, at 8@16½c. Whisky dull and nominally unchanged. Tallow in moderate request, at 11½@11¾. Leather—Hemlock sole quiet and prices without decided alteration. Naval Stores heavy, at 70@71c for spirits of turpentine, and $4,25@10,00 for rosin. Wool in fair request and steady, at 45@67c for domestic fleece, 45@50c for pulled, 24@28c for Texas, and 27@30c for California. Coffee more active and prices rather heavy. Sugar in moderate request, at 9¾@10½c for Cuba. Molasses dull and heavy; sales by auction of 400 bbls New Orleans at 77@86c, 180 bbls Cuba at 53@55c, and 50 hhds Porto Rica at 53@55c. Flour active; superfine, at $10@10¼; extra, at $11,25@15,50. Corn lower, at $1,20@1,27. Oats firm and in fair demand, at 75c. Hay steady, at $29. Pork lower; old, at $25. WALL PAPER—Of all grades, for Parlors, Halls, Dining Rooms and Kitchens, in great variety, at No. 107 Market street. oc27 JOS. R. HUGHES & BRO.

RIVER NEWS.

The river has risen considerably since our last report, and was still rising last evening, with twelve and a half feet in the channel by the Allegheny marks. At Oil City, the Allegheny river was rising in the early part of the day, with seven feet in the channel at that point. The weather yesterday was cloudy and smoky, with every appearance of rain.

The Spray, from Cincinnati, is the only arrival we have to report. The Leonidas, from Cincinnati, and the Savanna, from St. Louis, were due last night and will doubtless be found in port this morning.

The Argosy cleared for Cincinnati about noon yesterday, with a moderate trip, and the Importer got off for St. Louis last evening. The last named boat had a very good trip, including a considerable amount of railroad iron, and a fair number of passengers.

The Grey Eagle got off for Parkersburg on time yesterday, and the Bayard, Capt. Geo. D. Moore, is the regular packet for that point to-day.

The Bellevernon, Capt. Darragh, the Waunita, Capt. Shuman, both excellent boats, and in charge of careful and experienced officers, are announced for St. Louis, and the Kate Robinson, Capt. Robt. Robinson, is up for New Orleans.

The Ida Reese, Capt. Joe Brown, is next in turn for Cincinnati and Louisville after the Pine Grove, and the Maggie Hays, Capt. Hendrickson, is the Saturday packet for Cincinnati, having taken the place of the Quickstep.

The Yorktown since she was taken off the dock has been handsomely repainted and now presents a very neat appearance, looking like a bran new boat. We expect to see Captain Ebbert loading her for St. Louis before long. Capt. Standish Peppard still retains charge of the office of the Yorktown.

The Louisville Courier, not satisfied with the statements of the Pittsburgh papers in regard to the Great Republic, sent a special reporter here to see if there was not some mistake in regard to the dimensions, capacity, etc., etc., of this mammoth steamer. The Courier is now satisfied that she is just what she is represented, and is forced to admit, in point of design, model, etc., etc., she is, or will be when finished, equal to any of the finest lower river steamers. We are of the opinion that when she goes down there, the Courier will acknowledge that the Great Republic is a little ahead of anything ever turned out in the shape of a steamboat at Louisville or vicinity, including Madison.

The river from this point out is now in excellent condition for towboats taking out coal, but unfortunately, there is but little coal here ready for shipment, and consequently, there is not much going forward. The Hercules will probably get out with a tow today.

The Quickstep, Julia and Rob Roy arrived at Cincinnati on Monday, and the Columbia, Carrie, and Kate Putnam were advertised to leave there for Pittsburgh on Tuesday. The Quickstep has been laid up at Cincinnati. The Glendale, en route from Pittsburgh to Saint Louis, passed Evansville on Monday. The Nora was advertised to leave Cincinnati for Arkansas river on Tuesday, as was also the Westmoreland for New Orleans. The tow boat Simpson Horner passed up over the falls at Louisville on Monday.

We clip the following from the St. Louis Democrat, of Monday:

The Mexico, formerly Izetta, side-wheeler, was sold on Saturday to parties from Yazoo river, for the sum of $14,000.......The towboat Friendship goes to Pittsburgh with four barges, containing about 900 tons pig iron and iron ore.......The Minnie, Sherman, Ezra Porter, Glasgow and Pine Bluff are loading for the Ohio river.......We learn that Captain W. C. Harrison has purchased the splendid steamer Bart. Able, now commanded by him, and intends to keep her in the Red river trade as long as the water permits.

Says the Louisville Courier: We learn that Mr. Thos. Collins, coalboat pilot, is insane, and his friends, yesterday, started with him to the asylum at Lexington.
